

INVISIBLE-CARE

Invisible-Care Newsletter – April 2021

Significance of Documentation

To determine whether attendant care or rehabilitation support services are 'reasonable and necessary', it is important to establish client baseline function, implement a care plan, and monitor client progress through services. It is also critical to gather and chart the frequency and quality of client participation in everyday tasks.

Invisible-Care Reporting

Through daily multiple touchpoints, Invisible-Care not only supports task completion but also gains insight into the big picture on client function. Our monthly progress reports outline client function, behavioral observations, challenges with ADLs at home and in the community, and strategies used to coach clients to self-manage and cope with their circumstances. Our summary report provides a visual analysis of data collected on client's symptoms, daily function, and extent of physical, cognitive, or psycho-emotional impairment.

CAT or NOT?

An authentic measure of FUNCTION OVER TIME that can support and validate a catastrophic (CAT) determination. Contact us for pricing and sample reports.

Meet our Clinical Manager, Erin Mara

Erin is a seasoned Occupational Therapist with over 28 years of experience across acute care, in-patient rehabilitation, and auto insurance sectors. She has extensive experience working with individuals who have sustained orthopedic, soft tissue, acquired brain injuries, and spinal cord injuries as a result of motor vehicle and workplace accidents. Erin supervises all client care and leads the support team. A wonderful addition to our incredible team.
